We thank those people from many Central Texas towns and cities, from many parts of the nation, from many strata socially and vocationally, for reading this newspaper.

It is a newspaper for people to think through as well as read. It is untypical of most weekly or daily operations and it will become more untypical as this year progresses. We think the reading public is tired of pat content in newspapers and are going to broaden our scope as the pages become available.

We know that many of our readers are already well informed and most all of the rest want to be. The minutia of sports and to some extent community- to - community visitation news will receive more treatment, but in the perspective of a modern newspaper.

For all the times the old Herald has been put down in the past decade, the days of pioneering and rebuilding after a century of personality, trial-and-error, zenith and nadir, we are particularly happy with the response to our semi-weekly, offset effort.

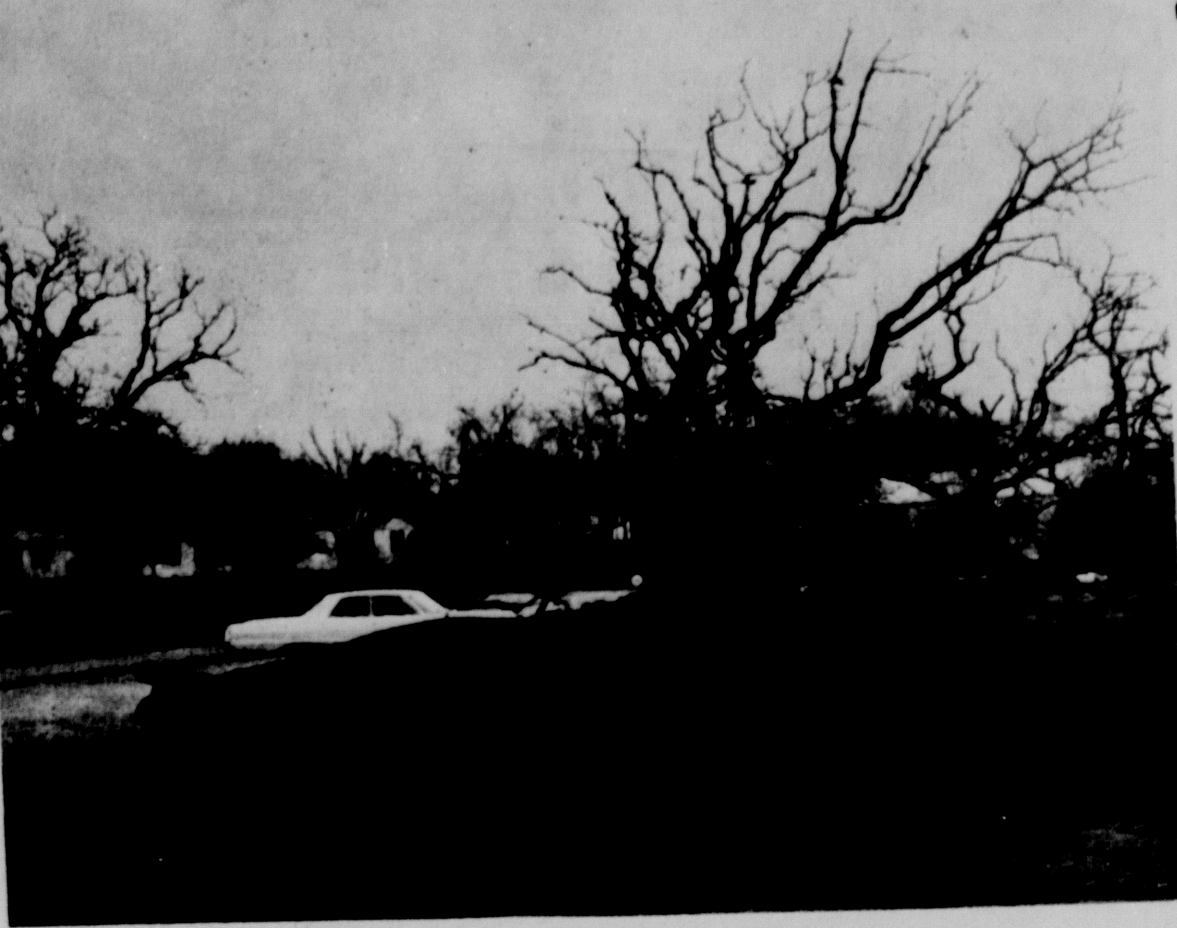

We have stood for this generation, not one past or two past or the promise of the next. It is indeed humbling to see this.

Texas Exes To Meet

The University of Texas Exes are holding their annual meeting on March 2, 7:30 p.m. at the Cameron Country Club.

Speaker for this event will be William "Spot" Collins, former Longhorn football player. All Milam County exes are urged to attend.

Those in south Milam County should contact Frank Skrivaneck and those in north Milam County please contact Dana Kestenbaum.

CRASH - This old oak tree, rain-soaked and top-heavy, fell on St. Edward Hospital lawn Monday, luckily missing the driveway and parking area. The tree broke off at the roots, apparently a victim of a combination of old age, too much rain, and possibly whatever illnesses oak trees suffer.

Food, Music, Beauty... Folk Fete Plans Continue

Cameron's Folk Fete took another step forward with announcement of plans for decorated concession booths and music at City Park, costumed exhibition folk dancers for an outdoor show at Yoe Field, and a beauty pageant.

Folk Fete committee members met Friday afternoon to make progress reports on plans for the June 12 - 13 Folk Fete.

L. W. Stroup, chairman of the concession committee, said booths at City Park would feature Italian, Mexican, Czech, German and Western food. The booths will be colorfully decorated to represent the six countries. Stroup said Western, Czech and teen bands would play in the park pavilion while concession booths were open. The pavilion will also be decorated for the Folk Fete weekend.

A craft and food concession will also be set up across from the park, on the grounds of the Cameron Public Library. Stroup said the Cameron Business and Professional Women's Club had reserved space on the library grounds and other organizations had expressed interest in setting up booths at that location.

The Central Texas Czech Folk Dancers will be highlighted in a show scheduled for Yoe Field June 13. Also on the program will be costumed folk dancers representing German, Italian, Mexican and Western dance.

Another highlight of the Saturday night show will be a beauty pageant with representatives of each section of the county, and each ethnic group.

Mrs. Perry Holder, a co-chairman of the first annual Cameron Folk Fete, said Folk Fete Belles had been invited to appear on KCEN television program Woman's World March 31.

The Folk Fete Belles will act as costumed hostesses for the pilgrimage of homes and the garden party at the Hilliard Thomas residence.

Homes scheduled to be open to the public for the pilgrimage include the residences of Miss Clara Thomas, Miss Lois Randolph, Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Dodson, Dr. and Mrs. W. R. Newton, and Mr. and Mrs. John B. Henderson, Sr.

Plans for an exhibit of local artists work are also underway under the chairmanship of Mrs. Lester Williams. The art show will be at the Cameron Public Library.

Other Folk Fete chairmen are: Mrs. Charles E. Hensley, garden party; Mrs. Frank Mikulec, folk dancers; Mrs. James Kahler, Belles; Mrs. Robert Clark, ticket sales; Henry J. Litzman, Jr., parade; R. W. Wells, stage arrangements; Eugene Smith - erman, pre-festival arrangements; Frank M. Luecke, publicity; Monroe Fuchs and Forrest Sapp, post festival arrangements.

Bloodmobile To Visit Wednesday

The Central Texas Red Cross Bloodmobile will be in Cameron next Wednesday from 12 noon until 6 p.m. at Methodist Fellowship Hall.

Local blood program officials are hoping to top the 72 units collected at the December 17 visit, when housewives outnumbered all other occupations listed by donors.

Prospective donors list their occupations either as "farmer, etc.," or designate the local company which employs them, and the 16 housewives outnumbered all others.

Farmers and Cocoa Cola employees were next, with seven donors each; Alcoa had six, Highway Dept, five, the Post Office three, and two donors each were listed for St. Edward Hospital, teachers, ministers, Precision Grinding, Hensley-Russell Inc., and Camp Ins.

One donor each was listed for 27 businesses, and one was listed as unemployed, according to figures released by Sister Aloysius, local blood program chairman.

Every resident of Milam County is eligible to receive blood on a one-for-one basis from the Red Cross, as long as the county participates in the blood program by meeting its quota of blood donations.

In 1969, Milam Counties contributed 705 units of blood, an increase of 61 units over 1968. Quotas are based on four percent of the county's population.

The coverage also applies to the immediate family members of regional residents regardless of where the member may live.

The blood itself is free, however the patient or his insurance program is obligated to defray a part of the expense of drawing, collecting, processing, distributing, cross-matching and transfusing the blood. This is known as administrative or processing charges.

The balance of the cost of this "free blood" is met through United Fund - Red Cross campaigns.

The savings through Red Cross blood banking over commercial systems represented over one-quarter of a million dollars for residents of the 12-county Central Texas Region, according to Red Cross officials.

"One of the most glaring areas where much work remains to be done," officials said, "is in the replacement of blood by friends and relatives of those who use blood. Most of the blood presently being donated comes from citizen humanitarians who believe in the program and recognize its value."

Yoe Scores 51-49 Bi-District Win

Awaiting Regional Test Sat.

Twice-beaten Luling Tuesday night went home thrice-beaten as the Yoemen dipped nine foul shots in the final quarter and four players scored in double figures for a 51-49 bi-district championship. It was Cameron's first in a quarter century.

Game was in Blinn College Gym, scene of this weekend's regional.

The Yoemen will return to the Blinn College court 1:15 p.m. Saturday to face the winner of the Diboll, Crosby or Drew games. Forward Jerry Richardson meshed 6 field goals and four foul shots for 16 points while Yoemen John Steamer with 12, and Robert Brashear and Willie White with 11 each led a big Luling Eagles squad for all but the first minute of the game.

Cameron's Steamer canned the first Yoe goal following Luling's first by Willie Ellison. White hit the Yoemen's second goal who never were headed the rest of the game.

Cameron led 12-8 at the first quarter and 25-15 at the half. It was 10-point lead the Eagles were unable to overcome.

Ellison hit 18 points, including five field goals in a sizzling third quarter which saw the Yoe lead dwindle to 25 - 22, the Eagles' full-court press forced a number of Yoe ball handling errors.

White, Brashear and Steamer each hit baskets in a slow 9-point Yoe third quarter while Luling poured in 17. Then Richardson and Steamer, Yoe co-captains, canned two field goals each in the fourth quarter while White, Brashear, McLerran and the co-captains dropped nine charities for the 51-49 margin.

Top scorer of the game was Luling's Ben Kelley, with 19 points who teamed with the equally rangy Ellison for layups and rebounds.

Luling, a state AA competitor last year, went home with a 27-3 season while Cameron now has a 19-10 season, with only a loss to Round Rock, excluding a practice game last week, this year.

Richardson's layups and Cameron rebounding under the Luling basket kept the taller Eagles on the defensive. Yoe foul shooting in the fourth quarter got nine of 13 charity shots.

Lake Search Continues For Youth

Lake Sam Rayburn officials are continuing a search this week for Gary Brashear, 20, lost when his fishing boat overturned in rough water Sunday, February 15.

The body of his companion was found Monday, but their fiber glass boat has not been found. Brashear is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Brashear of Beaumont and grandson of Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Burnett, Cameron.

Griffin Burnett, Truitt Burnett, both uncles of Brashear, and Charles McDermott, joined search parties last weekend, but returned Monday.

Five boats were reported overturned on the lake Sunday, but occupants of the other boats returned to shore safely.

Brashear, his wife and 13 month old son, live in Beaumont.

Officers Check Area Shootings

No arrests have been made by county law officers in connection with the shots fired into cars and buildings at Burlington last week. Officers speculate they may be tied in with reports of similar incidents in Falls County.

The reports include incidents at Wilson, Seaton, and Lott, in which bullets were fired from a moving car.

At Wilson, a community north-west of Burlington, reports said the gin and Voltin's Store were damaged by gunfire last Friday night. An unconfirmed report said a vacant house had been burned near Wilson.

Milam County Sheriff Carl Black said the Falls County sheriff told of recent incidents in that county.

A shot fired into a house at Lott struck a pillow, missing the head of a sleeping woman, Sheriff Black said.

Shots were also fired at Seaton and at Rosebud. Eight car tires were slashed at Seaton Star Hall last week, but it is not known whether this was done by the same persons who were firing from a car.

Three young men who were arrested in Temple Sunday in connection with the armed robbery of a drive in grocery at Temple were questioned by Falls County authorities in connection with the shootings at Seaton and Lott.

When Temple police officers arrested the men they confiscated four pistols, a rifle and a sawed-off shotgun.

Ballistics tests are being made on shells found at the scene of the shootings at Seaton and Lott, according to Falls County officials.

Fuchs 'Eggs-plains' Prices

Housewives are grumbling about high egg prices, but commercial egg producers are showing a profit for the first time in several years, according to Leo Fuchs, head of Ideal Hatchery and Breeding Farms, Inc.

As one of the largest commercial egg producing counties in the state, it means business is booming for Milam. Estimated egg production in the county is in excess of 23,000 market eggs per day.

Egg prices, up as high as 85 cents a dozen at Milam markets, are "simply reflecting supply and demand," Fuchs explained. "Egg prices dropped so low that a world of people went broke in the past two years. If they didn't go out of the egg business, they did cut back and now eggs are in short supply."

Fuchs said the 'cutting back' meant re-cycling or letting birds molt for 4 to 5 weeks and putting them back on the next.

In the second cycle birds lay only about 70 percent of the time and 60 to 65 percent in the third cycle. The result was that over a period of three years the supply of eggs dropped and the price began to rise.

Fuchs said the local supply got so low that no uncommitted eggs were available here in November or December. He said they were barely able to supply their established customers.

Fuchs said that the drop in price was only one of the egg producers woes. Taxes, labor and chicken feed all went up in price during this period. Commercial egg production takes automatic handling equipment now, and as mortgages came due on the equipment many farmers were closed out.

Last year the wholesale price of eggs fell as low as 25 cents a dozen for unwashed, ungraded eggs. Fuchs said it cost about 31 to 35 cents a dozen to produce commercial eggs. He said his cost was about 41 cents a dozen to produce, wash, grade and size a dozen eggs.

"We are really in the breeding business," Fuchs explained, "so our costs for record keeping are higher than the average producer."

Ideal is the only breeder of chickens in the state and one of only a small number in the nation. They sell their H-3W breed throughout the United States, in Mexico and abroad. Fuchs said their breed had been registered with USDA for the past three years and was highly competitive as a relatively disease free bird.

Fuchs said there were only three commercial egg producers left in Milam County - Ideal, the Glaser farm in Buckholts, Coldrons on the Milano highway. He said many counties in Texas had no commercial egg producers.

"The average farmer doesn't even raise eggs for his own consumption anymore," Fuchs said. "It is a seven-day-a-week job and they would rather just buy them at the store."

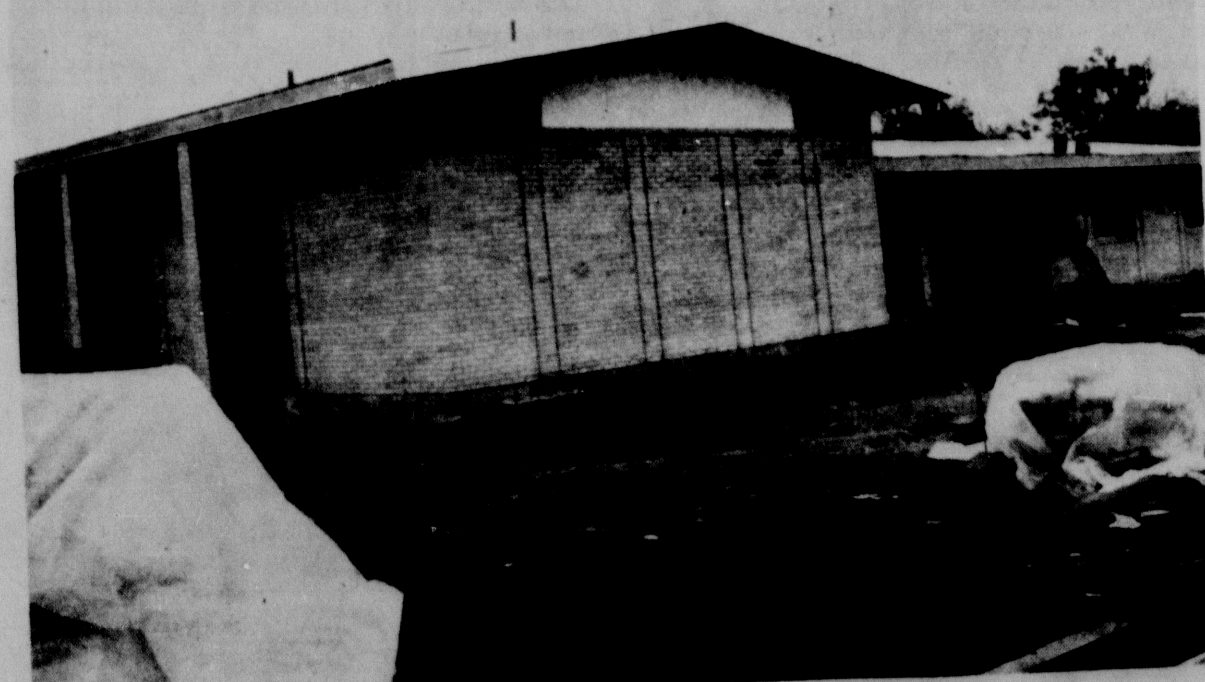

Fuchs said that another effect of the higher egg prices was the increase in chick sales. "Producers are replacing their older birds again instead of recycling them."

He said he looked for the egg price to drop some in another six months as production rises. He said egg producers were not organized to the point that they could effectively control production and maintain a steady market price.

"But, even at 85 cents a dozen, eggs are still the best food value on the market," Fuchs said.

CHICKS = EGGS and Leo Fuchs, owner of Ideal Hatchery, readies a shipment of baby chicks.

ARCHITECT'S LINES emerge as the community center takes shape at its Sixth Street location. The center is part of the city's low-rent housing project under construction and will be used for recreation and as a meeting place for organizations. A three-dimensional look is achieved by exterior brick partitions at west windows and at the entrance.

Disengage There, Engage Here . . .

President Nixon enunciates in recent months a policy of disengagement.

The first evidence of the policy is the Vietnamization of the war in Vietnam: putting Viet troops in the line where Americans have stood now for about five years.

This is the most identifiable implementation of the policy. But we shall see others, such as:

FRANCE--Georges Pompidou, France's president, is in Washington courting U. S. favor after predecessor Charles DeGaulle for most of the '60's drove stakes in U.S. foreign policy. Here, President Nixon is drawing the new French president's support because of the DeGaulle years and more recently the French sale of fighter jets to Libya, which French and American Jews are protesting vociferously, not to mention the Israelis. France seeks U. S. help without intervention.

ISRAEL--It is the least likely place for U. S. involvement of any kind, despite the example of the Lebanon effort by Marines during the latter Eisenhower years. Confrontation is so unlikely in the Middle East because the Israelis and Moslem nations are in open hostilities.

ASIA--If Vietnamization is working, justifying the planned return of additional troops this year, withdrawal of activist efforts, such as CIA involvements, may be studied by the White House.

In brief, President Nixon is asking Asian nations to work out as many problems with indirect U.S. help as possible. He would hope to strengthen ties with France and Europe without any confrontation in the Mediterranean with Russia, which Russian leaders would also avoid.

This disengagement allows attention for domestic problems like pollution, social problems and inflation. These are issues which are disengageable.

A Tax On Pollution . . .

A pollution tax levied against industrial plants based upon the amount of damaging wastes they produce has received support recently from diverse sources.

Secretary of Interior Walter J. Hickel, appearing on a television panel show, said that under President Nixon's clean water proposal "the polluters will have to pay." In Iowa, Representative William Gannon, prospective candidate for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination, said "industries should be taxed according to how much effluent they discharge into the atmosphere and into streams or rivers."

The model for these proposals is the Ruhr Valley. An industrial plant there is under few restrictions on the amount or type of pollution it can discharge. Its waste discharge is measured frequently, however, and a tax is levied based upon its level of pollution. The levy rises rapidly so that a company soon finds it economically advantageous to treat and control its wastes.

This contrasts with the usual U. S. practice of requiring ing a polluter to install specific types of control equipment.

The pollution tax contains the inherent logic that the owners of the plant causing damage to the environment should be billed for that damage.

The tax could encourage more rapid compliance. A company now can offer any number of reasons why a line for installing control equipment can't be met. Many delays are avoidable, but proving they are avoidable is difficult. This foot-dragging would cease to be a problem if a company paid dearly for delay.

The pollution tax also could encourage plants to keep their pollution control equipment in good operating order. Companies would be given more freedom to determine how pollution would be controlled. The pollution tax could be raised or lowered, depending upon the changing nature of the pollution threat to a community.

The pollution tax deserves consideration as part of federal and state waste-control programs.

Homeowners Face Hike In Insurance Payments

By Vern Sanford

AUSTIN

Homeowners throughout Texas apparently are in for a substantial increase in their insurance payments.

State Insurance Board's staff has recommended these average hikes:

*Statewide extended coverage, 6.9 per cent.
*Fire insurance, 1.7 per cent.
*Homeowners' policies, 18 per cent.

Recommendations were made as the insurance board held its annual hearing preparatory to promulgating new rates and possibly some new changes in its rules concerning these forms of insurance.

Board will set new rates around the end of next month, making the effective date early July.

Rates actually will vary according to location, building use and construction.

Another jolt would be Texas Insurance Advisory Association's recommendation of mandatory $250 deductible state-wide on all windstorm, hurricane and hail coverage. Mandatory deductible now applies only to seacoast territory for this type coverage, and that is limited to $100.

TIAA further suggested one-year optional "homeowners' policies be permitted. Present policies now run for three years.

DRINKS LAW
Texas Alcoholic Beverage Commission served notice it still intends to enforce the law against sale of liquor by the drink despite the court's invalidating its private club "guest" rule.

Case involving the rule is on appeal to the State Supreme Court. Meanwhile, ABC said club owners are mistaken in interpreting the Court of Civil Appeals' decision as giving them the go-ahead for mixed-drink sales to walk-in guests.

ABC also predicted an early court test of the law under which distribution of Coors Beer has been restricted in Texas. Court already has held invalid a 1966 directive which said that Coors' requirement of warehouse refrigeration was termed a forbidden "inducement."

BUSING REFERENDUM
Gov. Preston Smith asked the State Democratic Executive Committee to consider putting the question of school busing to achieve racial balance on the May 2 Democratic primary ballot as a referendum issue.

While not stating his own position, Smith argued that Texas voters should have a chance to express their opinions. He noted that the problem is "a federal and local issue," and called on federal officials to "assist us at the state and local level to upgrade our neighborhoods and our schools."

Meanwhile, the busing issue came in for attention from Democratic Senatorial candidate Lloyd Bentsen, who called compulsory busing "the most disruptive threat facing public education in America."

Smith sent a telegram to Sen. John Tower in Washington, urging him to "use your influence with the Republican administration" to obtain "more realistic, impartial and reasonable" treatment of Texas school districts by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare. He cited his meeting with 150 citizens from East Texas school districts (particularly Tyler and Longview) as motivating his request.

COURTS SPEAK

Court of Criminal Appeals upheld the new state anti-riot law which permits prosecution of a participant in a disturbance even though there is no evidence he committed acts of destruction.

Supreme Court backed the San Antonio Court of Civil Appeals in ruling that a juvenile can be sentenced for as much as five years in a reformatory for an act punishable by no more than a year in prison if committed by an adult.

High Court reversed the Third Court of Civil Appeals and concluded that a two-way radio service in McAllen is not a telephone service subject to state gross receipts taxes.

ATTORNEY GENERAL RULES
Parks and Wildlife Department can use either special game and fish money or general revenue to build a proposed water-exchange pass across Mustang Island, Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin has held. However, he said, if it is built with game-and-fish fund money, it will be a "fish pass" and it will be illegal for boats to go through it.

In other recent opinions, Martin concluded that:

*New family code prohibiting remarriage for six months after divorce applies only to divorce proceedings commenced after Jan. 1, 1970.

*County clerks have no discretion to refuse to record declarations of informal marriage where all required information is given on the form.

*Board dealing with uncollectible judgments for the state cannot sell or transfer them for less than full value.

*Sen. Criss Cole of Houston, who was recently appointed judge of the new Harris County Juvenile Court, will remain as a member of the Senate Study Committee on Environmental Control until the next legislature convenes.

OLD PHILOSOPHER

Dear editor:

I had planned to start up my tractor yesterday morning in preparation for the coming of spring but caught myself just in time -- not going to catch me polluting the air unnecessarily with a gasoline engine, it's bad enough with people smoking cigarettes and eating onions -- so instead I came inside the house and looked over a newspaper I'd been saving, although what I'm going to do with it when I get through reading it I don't know. You can't burn it without polluting the air or throw it away without littering the ground. Understand, I'm not suggesting that publishing a newspaper is a prime cause of littering in this country, but if you can't find something wrong about whatever anybody is doing these days, you're behind the times.

Anyway, in this newspaper which I don't know what to do with when I'm through with, I ran across an article by a psychiatrist who is a member of the National Commission on the Causes and Prevention of Violence who says, and I'm sure you and I may have trouble following him on this line of thinking, that one way to cut down on crime and violence is to license newspaper reporters and writers.

That's right. He wants the government to license you newspaper people to assure the public, he says, "that the practitioners of the art are qualified practitioners."

As you know, psychiatrists are licensed and therefore qualified, which is the reason why in nearly any murder trial the prosecutor can find a psychiatrist qualified to say the murderer is sane and the defense can find one qualified to say he's insane. In a really big trial, you can get two or three or even four on each side with exactly the opposite diagnoses of the same guy. Where would psychiatry be today without licenses? Where would the country be? Probably filled with crime and violence. I'll tell you, if we want to put a stop to crime and violence, we ought to have every newspaper and radio and television reporter in this country psychoanalyzed in the morning. But be sure to see two, so the verdict will be a toss-up. Yours faithfully, J. A.

CRIME INCREASING

Major crime in Texas increased 15.9 per cent last year--to rate of one major crime every one and a quarter minutes--Department of Public Safety Director Wilson E. Speir reports. Statistics show 432,251 major criminal offenses in Texas during 1969 as compared to 372,912 in 1968. Of the total, 389,969 occurred in urban areas and 42,282 in rural sections. Murder and homicide rate was up 1.5 per cent, rape up 33.2 per cent, robbery 53.1 per cent, burglary 17.1 per cent, aggravated assault 22.7 per cent, theft 12.5 per cent and auto theft 22.8 per cent.

'Tail-gating' Dangerous

"Tail-gating" can set off a violent chain reaction that nobody wants, reminds the Texas Safety Association.

At least one car length for each 10 miles per hour of speed is recommended and TSA says a driver will need every inch of that space to avoid trouble.

New Camaro. Feb. 26th.

We've never announced a car at this time before. But then nobody's ever announced a car like this before.

Super Hugger

If it were an ordinary sportster, we'd have introduced it at the ordinary time.

Instead, we took the time to build a whole new Camaro.

We started with a sleek new shape and a low road-hugging stance.

And added more hood. A faster fastback. Wider doors. And new deeply contoured bucket seats.

The instrument panel wraps around you. With enough dials to make you think you're piloting a 747.

There are four transmissions. And six power plants up to the Turbo-Jet 396 V8 that you can order.

Pick the one that best suits your driving. Then go pick on an open road.

And make it one with plenty of twisting turns. Because Camaro has a remarkable new suspension. And standard front disc brakes for a leech-like grip on the road.

New Camaro. The Super Hugger.

Other sportsters always feared it might come to this.

And they were right. Only their timing was wrong.

Putting you first, keeps us first.

State's Rising Crime Rate Prompts Firearm Laws

The increase in the incidence of violent crime involving the use of firearms prompted the 61st Legislature to consider several approaches in dealing with offenders, according to Rep. Dan Kubiak.

In his weekly newsletter, Kubiak listed several measures passed by the 61st:

SB 135 provides that felons who have been convicted of violent crimes may not possess a prohibited weapon or a firearm having a barrel of less than 12 inches except on the premises where he lives. The act amends Article 489c, Vernon's Texas Penal Code, which previously applied only to firearms capable of being concealed. In addition to increasing the scope of the crime, the penalty is doubled to a term of a minimum of two years and a maximum of 10 years imprisonment.

HB 403 prohibits the display of prohibited weapons by dealers in windows, showcases, or on signs and advertisements which can be seen from outside the business establishment, in which the weapons are sold, but this measure was vetoed by the Governor because he felt that if a merchant is permitted by law to possess, purchase and sell such items, he has the right to display them at his discretion.

By HB 472 the punishment for shooting on a public road is increased from a maximum fine of $100 to $200, and a minimum fine of $50 was added for violations of Article 480a, Vernon's Texas Penal Code.

SB 417 amends Article 341, Penal Code of Texas, 1925, to provide that a person who resists arrest, apprehension or investigation by a peace officer and uses a firearm during the resistance is guilty of a felony and subject to from 2 to 10 years imprisonment.

"Currently our office is doing research on changing the voter registration laws in Texas so that the annual registration can be eliminated," he said. "We have visited with tax assessors and collectors in the state and with Valtor White in Cameron, Bob Stellbauer in Franklin and Otto Casey in Marlin to get their opinions on what is the best procedure. As I have mentioned earlier, Texas is one of seven states that have annual voter registration and we must protect our sacred right of voting."

What's Ahead For Food?

By Christine Laws

What is ahead in the new decade for food products and processes? How will consumers spend their food dollars? What will they want?

For one thing, the homemaker wants and is willing to pay for "instant" heat-and-serve and ready-to-cook foods.

Criteria for convenience foods is changing to quick serve and instant foods instead of foods to which only some degree of preparation has been added.

For example, a packaged pudding mix which requires stirring in milk and cooking is too old-hat and too much bother. So canned and frozen instant puddings are high style. Canned soups to which water must be added are losing an increasing per cent of their market to the soups with water in the can.

The second trend is that Americans will eat more meals away from home in the 1970's. Institutional food sales rose 36 per cent from 1960 to 1966. During this same period sales in food stores rose only 14 per cent.

Forecasters say 40 percent of the food dollar will be spent for meals away from home by 1978. In 1962, about 25 percent went for meals away from home. This figure jumped to 35 percent by 1966.

This trend is attributed to: 1, homemakers working away from home; 2, increased leisure time; 3, improved technology; 4, decreased interest in learning how to cook.

Today 40 percent of all women more than 16 years old are in the American labor force. The largest segment (57 percent) of women in the work force are married.

Thirdly, fast food services will increase in the 1970's. More food chains are going into institutional foods; they're opening franchised dining chains through facilities for on-premise food consumption and take-home prepared foods. This trend will continue and probably expand to most major companies.

Forecasters predict that supermarkets will go heavily into food service operations, too, offering all types of prepared, take-home foods from chicken dinners, fish and chips, pizzas, and Chinese entrees to fancy gourmet meals completely prepared from appetizer through dessert.

By the mid-1970's, 50 percent of the supermarkets will have luncheonettes and 85 percent will take-out food services.

Advances in food technology is the fourth major trend. Scientists will make new products from fabricated foods. As a protein extender in meats, snacks, low-cost meat - like foods and beverages, the soybean leads the parade.

Great strides are being made in the development of cheese-like, meatlike and cellular textures to be used in foods.

Don't jump to conclusions about foods you buy. A prime example today is non-dairy cream substitutes and whipped toppings. Don't assume they are lower in saturated fats than their dairy counterparts. The products don't make this claim and it is not true.

A study of 14 cream substitutes by a Harvard University scientist revealed that substitutes have up to 20 percent more saturated fatty acids than the dairy creams they replace.

Many of them are made with highly saturated coconut oil. The dairy substitutes are not necessarily lower in calories, either.

Jesse Wilkerson Recalls
The Streets Of Cameron

By Jesse Wilkerson

What were they like in the old days, or "when you and I were young Maggie." They were unpaved then. A wagon or a lone horseman moving slowly along the streets would leave a pall of dust in their wake.

Sunday mornings found the business section practically deserted. As the saying went, "you could fire a cannon down the streets and never hit a soul." Later in the morning there was some activity, as the good folks trekked to their respective churches.

On Sunday afternoons, people walked and went in buggies to the depot. There they waited and watched for the trains to come in. Sunday nights the streets became quiet again. There was nothing to break the stillness but the bell of the Courthouse clock as it tolled the hour.

But Monday was quiet different, if it happened to be "First Monday." This was trades day, or commonly called "Hoss-Whapping Day." The streets around the square were filled with horses and vehicles of every sort. The traders came from all parts of the county, milling about in a crowded mass. As if the hub - but wasn't enough, there were numerous street fights to add to the noise and confusion.

On the week days following, the streets were less active.

Only a few wagons were parked at the Courthouse square, with several horses tied to the hitching rail.

Then came the Saturdays. The country folk came to town to do their weekly shopping. From the sand hill country to the south and black lands of the north, they came in every conveyance imaginable. As they said, "in more ways than a country boy could come to town."

The streets were again jammed. Friends and neighbors gathered in groups to talk crops, the weather and politics. It was with some difficulty for one to move along the sidewalks fronting the Courthouse square.

This is only a small part of my recollections of the streets that were, in old Cameron. I am grateful that I have these treasured memories.

Sauce Makes Potatoes
More Pleasurable

It must have been the luck of the Irish that took a mysterious root from the New World and made it a popular vegetable. The Irish potato is really an import from America that went to Ireland and became more Irish than the Blarney Stone. In fact, the Irish have become so "potatoed", that most of their meals revolve around some form of potato dish.

Let's salute the Emerald Isle and their great "discovery" with a bit of an Irish meal. High on the list of favorite Irish dishes is salmon steak simmered in plenty of butter. To go along, serve braised cabbage, fruit bread, Irish coffee, and of course, POTATOES. The Irish like their potatoes boiled, but we've taken the liberty of substituting baked potatoes sauced with flavorful Potato Cream.

There's no disputing "potato greatness", but too much of a good thing can become boring. When potato monotony hits your meals, reach for a can of beef, chicken, giblet, or mushroom gravy for superb potato pour-ons. They're good heated straight from the can or with little trimmings. For our Irish meal, chicken gravy is combined with cucumber, sour cream, and dill for a creamy, spring-fresh sauce.

POTATO CREAM

1/4 cup chopped cucumber
1/4 teaspoon dried dill leaves, crushed
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 can (10 1/2 ounces) chicken gravy
1/4 cup sour cream

In saucepan, cook cucumber with dill in butter until tender. Add gravy and sour cream. Heat; stir now and then. Makes 1 1/2 cups sauce. Serve over baked potatoes.

DPS Launches Program For Licensing Drivers

AUSTIN — The Texas Department of Public Safety today announced an intensive, statewide driver licensing program to be launched immediately on the basis of a study revealing a disproportionate involvement of unlicensed drivers in serious traffic accidents.

Col. Wilson E. Speir, DPS Director, said the drive is in conjunction with Governor Preston Smith's coordinated traffic safety program to combat increasing deaths, injuries and economic loss in Texas traffic which cost the state an estimated 3,580 lives, hundreds of thousands of injuries, and upwards of a billion dollars last year.

"Statistical data compiled from reports of motor vehicle accidents occurring on the public streets and highways of Texas during the first six months of 1969 reveal that some 9.6 per cent of the drivers involved in fatal accidents were un-ensured; that 7.6 per cent of the drivers involved in personal injury accidents were unlicensed; and that more than 5.8 per cent of those Texas residents involved in all motor vehicle accidents were not licensed," Speir said.

"In view of the fact that one out of each 17 Texas residents involved in motor vehicle accidents during the period were not licensed, and the higher percentage of fatal and injury collisions in which the unlicensed drivers were involved, an increase in enforcement efforts against unlicensed drivers would seem to be justified. It is estimated that there are as many as 400,000 unlicensed drivers in Texas at this time."

The Public Safety Director said the emphasis program will consist of:

1. Urging all drivers in Texas to see that they are properly licensed.
2. An intensive, stepped-up program of enforcement by means of frequent, periodic license checks to be made on the road by DPS patrolmen.
3. Development of driver training schools for persons who need more knowledge and skill to qualify for driver licenses.
4. Urging employers in large plants and business establishments to encourage their employees to obtain proper driver licenses, particularly those moving to Texas from other states.

Speir said the DPS will call upon all agencies and organizations concerned with the traffic problem, including municipal and county law enforcement agencies and citizens' groups, to make the statewide licensing drive a concerted effort.

Hermann Sons Set March Drive

Cameron Hermann Sons Lodge No. 140 will take part in a March 1-31 membership drive, honoring Fritz Schillo of San Antonio, Grand President of the Order of the Sons of Hermann in Texas, during the month of Schillo's birthday.

Special monetary awards will go to adult and junior members who successfully participate. In the campaign, junior members nine through 13 years of age can also earn merit points toward attending the Hermann Sons Youth Summer Camp at Com-fort, in the Texas Hill Country.

HUNTERS KILL 270,000 DEER IN TEXAS

Biologists for the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department estimated that Texas hunters killed approximately 297,000 deer out of an estimated population of 3,205,000 in 1969.

It took 580,000 hunters approximately 2.9 million deer days to kill this many deer. Llano, Medina, and Mason Counties had the largest deer kills with approximately 13,000 each, followed by Gillespie with approximately 11,000, Kerr with 8,000, Kimble with 7,000 and Blanco with 7,000.

The deer kill this year approximates that of last year even though a new method of estimating indicated a slightly higher kill. Game management officers estimated approximately 280,000 deer killed both years.

CATTLE ON FEED

The Texas Cattle and Livestock Reporting Service said there were 1,404,000 head of cattle and calves on feed in Texas feed-lots for slaughter market on February 1. This is an increase of 30 1/2 over the figure for a year ago but 1 1/2 below the figure for a month ago.

Correct Image Farmers Told

By J. D. Moore

Dolph Briscoe told farmers to correct their image of subsidized laborers at the Blackland Income Growth meeting held in Waco on February 19.

Agricultural people should get off their backs, stand on their feet and loudly proclaim their success story to the rest of the economy, according to Briscoe.

Briscoe was featured speaker at the annual Blackland Income Growth meeting. More than 200 persons from about 30 counties in the Blacklands attended. Henry N. Ivey, Jimmy Newhouse and J. D. Moore attended from Milam County.

Briscoe said agriculture has made possible the success of the American economy. "You in agriculture know this. But we need to tell it to the rest of our economy. Because of agricultural efficiency, the consumer spends only 16-18 cents for a dollar a few years ago it was 40 cents," he said.

Briscoe said agriculture is generally depicted as a declining industry which depends mostly for its existence on government hand-outs.

"This is not a true picture. Agriculture and its efficiency is the reason the U.S. is the leader today in world affairs. Just think for a moment of how deep the inroads of communism would be in this world were it not for our productive agriculture. We in agriculture need to get this story across to everyone," Briscoe said.

Dr. John Hutchinson, Texas Extension service director, College Station, explained details of a program to increase gross agricultural income by $1 billion by 1976.

This will be done through county program building committees and through county committees working similar to the B.I.G. program.

Cole Townley, Walker County rancher, said marketing, finance, and computer planning will be in future agriculture plans in the 1970's.

In describing condition predictions for the 1970's, Townley said agriculture should not be "dragged" into the 70's. He said farmers go from "crises" to "crises" while industry and other sectors of our economy portray a bright future with a high economic return for the 70's.

John A. Smith, local farmer and rancher is area representative serving on the B.I.G. Committee.

Announces Candidacy

I, Mrs. Reeves (Betsy) Brown, am a candidate for the Cameron School Board. To me it has been a privilege to live near Cameron in the Cameron Independent School District, Salem Community, for the past years, and I want to do something for the Cameron community. The way I wish to serve is as a school board member. A good public education is one of our greatest American freedoms, and I would like to work with it to constantly improve its quality and meaning in the lives of our young people. I am very interested in seeing more vocational type courses available to those students who are not planning on college. If I am elected to the school board, I shall sincerely try to make all decisions for the best interest of the children as I understand it.

Will 'Hard' Pesticides Make Wildlife Extinct?

AUSTIN Texas is using 170 million pounds of pesticides annually, and the amount is increasing at a rate of 10 to 12 per cent per year, according to Ken Jurgens, administrator of technical programs for the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

In a recent statement to the Senate Committee for the Study of Land Use and Environmental Control, Jurgens termed the use of pesticides, particularly those of a "hard" or persistent nature, "an environmental problem of great urgency" because of their effects upon fish and wildlife.

Jurgens said fortunately about 84 per cent of the pesticides used are the less persistent types such as the organophosphates and carbamates, which are not presently of great concern in causing environmental problems.

"The remaining 16 per cent," he said, "... are persistent chlorinated hydrocarbons, and it is these which are causing serious problems. In aerial application of chlorinated hydrocarbons as little as 50 per cent may actually reach the intended target.

Aerial drift, codistillation with water, volatilization from soil surfaces and leaching from heavy rains are some of the means by which they move from the point of application into the aquatic environment and thence to the estuarine and marine environments."

Jurgens said Department studies made in cooperation with Federal fisheries and wildlife studies have shown that the oyster may contain residues up to 70,000 greater than the amount found in water.

According to Jurgens, random samples of flesh-eating birds indicate unusually high residues of DDT metabolites. For example, a peregrine falcon contained 56 ppm DDT in the liver and eight ppm in the brain.

A white pelican, which eats nothing but fish, contained 84 ppm in body flesh, 120 ppm in the liver, 18 ppm in the brain, 31 ppm in the heart and 16 ppm in the kidney, plus two ppm of dieldrin in some body parts.

Jurgens said extensive areas adjacent to areas of intense agricultural activity are in danger of decreased productivity as a result of the use of pesticides.

"Examination of juvenile fish data revealed as much as eight ppm of DDT residue in gonads of spotted sea trout," he said. "Also, there has been a steady decline in numbers of juveniles of this species since 1964. Where 30 juveniles per acre were taken in routine monthly sampling consisting of 10 seine hauls by biologists in 1964, only seven juvenile trout were collected in 15 acres in 1969, and 200 sampling efforts over two months were required to collect this small number."

The problem with persistent pesticides is their biological magnification in the food chain and their apparent effect on species' reproduction and survival, according to Jurgens.

"... it is entirely possible that chlorinated hydrocarbon pesticides will cause serious declines in fish and wildlife, and, in some cases, species extinction could result," he said.

Crop Tests On Corn Released

Figures released by the Crop Testing Program of Texas A&M University show that the top-producing corn in the 1969 test was an experimental hybrid grown at Muleshoe on the High Plains.

The new variety yielded 190.2 bushels per acre on an irrigated test plot utilizing the same management practices used in normal field production. Several other test plots located throughout the state also reported corn yields to the crop-testing researchers in compiling the statistics, according to Anton J. Bockholt, Texas Agricultural Experiment Station agronomist.

The top yellow hybrid variety was PX 635, followed by Texas 425X, Asgrow ISL9 and ACCO 6000. The best white corn was ASX 165W, with other outstanding varieties being Excel 901W, T-E Whitmaster and Texas 17W.

The test plots at College Station in the Brazos Valley received one irrigation, with Funks 6720 being the top yellow producer. The best white corn was Excel E903W, followed by T-E Whitmaster and Texas 17W. Other top yellow hybrids were Texas 28A, Texas 34, Funks G4949, Asgrow ATC 450 and Corona.

Texas 40 was the top yellow corn in tests at Temple, in Central Texas. Excel E903W was the best white hybrid, followed by Texas 17W. Other yellow varieties which produced high were Texas 28A, Texas 425X, Corona, Pioneer 3369A and Funks G4761.

The main purpose of the program is to measure the performance of various hybrids under management practices and environment at the different locations during the year under study.

The information released by the researchers on commercial and experimental corn hybrids is helpful to corn breeders and farmers who are concerned with the selection of the hybrid best suited to their particular area of the state.

Time To Plan Home Gardens

COLLEGE STATION

It is time for home gardeners to start planning their spring gardens, reminds W. Texas A&M University horticulture professor.

"Most important is to be sure that you have good seed and that this seed is the proper variety for your area," Dr. Homer Blackhurst, vegetable breeding specialist said.

It is important for the home gardener to determine the family needs and preferences when choosing the types of vegetables and the quantity of each vegetable to be planted, he said. The person planning a garden should also determine what the quantity, price and quality of vegetables in the market will be when he is harvesting the same vegetables in his own garden.

"The home gardener should determine if it is profitable for him to plant and care for each vegetable," he said.

Land should be prepared well in advance of planting, the specialist said; explaining that this usually done as soon as the weather will permit.

It is a good idea to put part of the fertilizer under the beds as they are being prepared for planting. This will make the fertilizer readily available when the plants need it.

The precise kind and amount of fertilizer to be used can only be determined by a soil test, he noted.

The method of taking a soil test as well as information concerning the seeds best suited for the gardener's own area can be obtained at the county agricultural agents office.

best to follow the directions on the seed package," he explained. "But because of frequent early rains, a fine mulch such as cotton seed hulls or sawdust should be put over the rows to avoid compaction of the soil before the seedlings emerge."

It is very important to thin plants to the distances recommended on each individual package, he said. If the plant package has been lost or discarded, this information is also available at the county agent's office.

"It is very important to control weeds in the garden," he noted. "This can be done by the conventional methods of pulling and hoeing, but is best done with the use of a mulch around the plants."

Sufficient water is most important for vegetables, Blackhurst said; noting that vegetable crops will require approximately 1 1/2 inches of water a week either by rainfall or irrigation.

"Above all don't allow vegetable crops to go into water stress. This will seriously affect the quality of the vegetables," he said.

ASCS News

By Alva E. Sanders

One of the services provided by the Milam County ASCS Office is acreage measurement for farmers participating in the wheat, feed grain, or cotton programs.

To obtain measurement service, a producer must file a request with the ASCS Office. The county office will tell him the cost. This cost is paid prior to the service and is borne by the person making the request.

A county ASCS reporter will visit the farm and determine the acreage of each field and stake it if requested. An outline of the fields and their acreage will be furnished to the producer.

Producers interested in measurement service are urged to request it as soon as possible. The County Office has reporters available now to give this service. Filing a request later may cause a delay in the service requested.

There are advantages in knowing the acreages of crops planted or to be planted, diverted acres, and conserving base acres. Knowing these will help the farmer when the time comes for certifying compliance with a program.

Measurement service guarantees compliance with a program, so long as the planting is limited to the measured area. Incorrect certification can result in program payments being reduced or lost.

In lieu of a soil test, a rough rule of thumb is to use a complete fertilizer (i.e. 12-24-12) at a rate of 300 pounds an acre. "When seeding, it is generally

IRS PROVIDES WORKSHEET IN TAX PACKAGE

A special worksheet for taxpayers to compute 1969 Federal income taxes has been included in the tax package mailed out this year by the Internal Revenue Service.

The worksheet, Schedule T, is provided for the taxpayer's convenience, said A. P. Andrews, administrative officer of Internal Revenue in Temple, and usually does not have to be sent in with the tax return.

The only exceptions to this are when the taxpayer pays self-employment tax or claims a special tax credit (retirement income, investment or foreign tax) or owes tax from recomputation of prior-year investment credit. This tax or credit is entered on the worksheet.

While an administrator in the Cameron system, he was director of the federal school lunch program for the Ben Milam, Ada Henderson and O. J. Thomas schools. For the past 18 1/2 years, McClaren has served as Democratic Chairman for Milam County. He has always tried to serve the interests of all members of the party "fair and above board". He said, "If you are fair to people, even though you may disagree, they respect it and will be fair to you in return". This motto applies to business, politics, education, as well as civic work. McClaren feels that one of the best character traits a person can have is to respect the thinking of his fellow man.

In the civic work of the County, McClaren is Chapter Chairman of the Milam County March of Dimes. He has been drive chairman several times since 1950. He headed the teen age MOD drive for both Buckholts and Rockdale in 1958-59, and in Cameron in 1960.

He is vice-president of the Milam County Cancer Society, and last year was co-chairman of the 1969 Cancer Crusade. He is a member of the District Cancer Advisory Board and at present is serving as district recruiting person for Milam, Falls, Robertson, Leon and Limestone counties in getting people interested in and working with the 1970 Cancer Crusade that will come off in April.

McClaren is a member of the Rotary Club, and is serving as the 1970 Program Chairman. He is also organizer for the weekly dinner music for the Rotary meetings. He is a member of the Chamber of Commerce, serving on the education committee; also, a member of the Knights of Pythias Fraternal Lodge, an affiliation of the Orphan's Home at Weatherford, Texas.

He is a sustaining member of the Cameron Public Library where he is a member of the Book Committee. He has served on book adoption selection committees for English, music and social studies for the County and Cameron systems. McClaren is a life-member of the PTA organization and served as vice-president in 1965-66. He has served on the legislative committee and as Vice-president of the Milam County TSTA Unit. In 1966, he served with the Rockdale Public Schools where he worked with the librarian in organizing and selecting of supplemental and enrichment reading materials for junior and senior high school students.

Also, McClaren has worked with the Milam school as a co-operative teacher and as music teacher, directed the 80 voice Milam high school chorus at the dedication of the new post office there. As co-ordinator of the federal program he served in the Gause, Maysfield and Branchville schools. He was instructor for the Branchville - Maysfield adult education program in 1967 out of the County Superintendent's office.

According to McClaren, these years of educational service have been very enjoyable and pleasant. "The personal and professional relationships you get from working with parents, students and educational friends is most gratifying and rewarding. Education must continue to make progress if we are to give the youth of our County and State the best educational advantages".

This is in essence and largely the reason that I am seeking the post of County Superintendent of my native Milam County. I have done all my educational work in our County, and since I have come to know and appreciate so many of the parents, students and fellow educators, I would like very much to serve you as county superintendent.

A penny for your wash.

If you dry your clothes in an electric dryer, you'll pay as much as 5c a load, in most places.

If you dry your clothes in a gas dryer, you'll pay only about a penny a load.
